DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Applicant's election with traverse of claims 1-3 in the reply filed on 8/28/2003 is acknowledged. The traversal is on the ground(s) that claims 4-6 should be rejoined therewith. This is found persuasive.

Claims 7-11 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a nonelected invention, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Applicant timely traversed the restriction (election) requirement in the reply filed on 8/28/2003.

The requirement is still deemed proper and is therefore made FINAL.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-6 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over DE 28 54 520 A1 in view of Burke [US 4,784,916].

DE 28 54 520 A1 discloses a transformer comprising:

- a plurality of layers formed from a length of conductive material [figure 2];
- a plurality of cooling ducts [5] spaced between the plurality of conductive material layers; and

Art Unit: 2832

- a resin [4] encapsulating the plurality of conductive material layers and the plurality of cooling ducts.

DE 28 54 520 A1 discloses the instant claimed invention except for the specific material used to form the cooling ducts.

Burke discloses a cooling duct structure [20] use with a transformer [figure 1], wherein the cooling duct formed of a polyester thermal plastic resin having heat transfer and electrical properties compatible with an encapsulant resin.

It would have been an obvious to one having ordinary skilled in the art at the time the invention was made to use the duct design of Burke in DE 28 54 520 A1 for the purpose of protecting the ducts during coil manufacture.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
